1. Introduction

- 1.1 Elderpark Housing recognises the importance that tenants and residents place on having a high-quality property management service from their landlord/factor that is responsive to their needs where the tenant/resident reports dampness, mould or condensation issues within their home or common areas.
- 1.2 The Scottish Housing Regulator issued a letter in December 2022, to all Scottish Landlords to consider what systems they have in place to be proactive in ensuring tenants homes are not severely affected by mould and dampness and that they have appropriate, proactive systems to identify and deal with any reported cases of mould and damp situations timeously and effectively.
- 1.3 Elderpark Has developed this policy and the supporting management plan to ensure all applicable legislation is recognised, to outline our statutory duties as an employer and landlord and set out the management arrangements we have in place to deal with mould and dampness in all properties owned and managed by Elderpark.

2. Purpose of the Policy

4. Legal and Regulatory Framework

Regulatory Framework

- 4.1 The Scottish Housing Regulator's (SHR) main role is to monitor, assess, report and intervene (as appropriate) in relation to social landlords' performance of housing activities and RSLs' financial well-being and standards of governance, in relation to tenants, people who are homeless, gypsy/travellers and factored owners.
- 4.2 Section 36 of the Housing 2010 Act requires the SHR to issue a Code of Conduct setting out Standards of Governance and Financial Management for RSLs. The SHR has seven standards in place which Elderpark Housing must adhere to and meet. Below are the seven standards. We have indicated next to each standard whether we deem it is applicable to this mould and dampness policy:
- 4.3 The relevant standards from the SHR Framework and Standard of Governance and financial Management relevant to this policy are:
- Regulatory Standard 1 (RS1) – 'The governing body leads and directs the RSL to achieve good outcomes for its tenants and other service users'.

- Guidance 1.1 - The governing body sets the RSL’s strategic direction. It agrees and oversees the organisation’s business plan to achieve its purpose and intended outcomes for its tenants and other service users.
 - Guidance 1.2 - The RSL’s governance policies and arrangements set out the respective roles, responsibilities and accountabilities of governing body members and senior officers, and the governing body exercises overall responsibility and control of the strategic leadership of the RSL.
 - Guidance 1.3 - The governing body ensures the RSL complies with its constitution and its legal obligations. Its constitution adheres to these Standards and the constitutional requirements set out below.
 - Guidance 1.4 - All governing body members accept collective responsibility for their decisions.
 - Guidance 1.5 - All governing body members and senior officers understand their respective roles, and working relationships are constructive, professional and effective.
 - Guidance 1.6 - Each governing body member always acts in the best interests of the RSL and its tenants and service users and does not place any personal or other interest ahead of their primary duty to the RSL.
 - Guidance 1.7 - The RSL maintains its independence by conducting its affairs without control, undue reference to or influence by any other body (unless it is constituted as the subsidiary of another body).
- Regulatory Standard 3 (RS3) – ‘The RSL manages its resources to ensure its financial well-being, while maintaining rents at a level that tenants can afford to pay’.
 - Guidance 3.1 - The RSL has effective financial and treasury management controls and procedures, to achieve the right balance between costs and outcomes, and control costs effectively. The RSL ensures security of assets, the proper use of public and private funds, and access to sufficient liquidity at all times.
 - Guidance 3.2 - The governing body fully understands the implications of the treasury management strategy it adopts, ensures this is in the best interests of the RSL and that it understands the associated risks.
 - Guidance 3.3 - The RSL has a robust business planning and control framework and effective systems to monitor and accurately report delivery of its plans. Risks to the delivery of financial plans are identified and managed effectively. The RSL considers sufficiently the financial implications of risks to the delivery of plans.
- Regulatory Standard 5 (RS5) – ‘The RSL conducts its affairs with honesty and integrity’.
 - Guidance 5.1 - The RSL conducts its affairs with honesty and integrity and, through the actions of the governing body and staff, upholds the good reputation of the RSL and the sector.
 - Guidance 5.2 - The RSL upholds and promotes the standards of behaviour and conduct it expects of governing body members and staff through an appropriate code of conduct. It manages governing body members’ performance, ensures compliance and has a robust system to deal with any breach of the code.

- Guidance 5.3 - The RSL pays due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation, and advance equality of opportunity and human rights, and fosters good relations across the range of protected characteristics in all areas of its work, including its governance arrangements.

Legal Framework

- 4.4 Elderpark Housing will comply with all relevant legislation and regulatory requirements for mould and dampness. Set out below is the principal legislation which applies to mould and dampness management for Elderpark Housing (please refer to the supporting mould and dampness management plan for all associated detailed standards and guidance):
- 4.5 The Health and Safety at Work Act 1974; General Duty on Employers
This primary Health and Safety legislation imposes a general duty on employers to ensure the health, safety, and welfare of their employees at work, so far as reasonably practical. This statutory duty is also applicable to “others” who may be affected by the employer’s undertakings (i.e., work activity), such as contractors, tenants, neighbours, owners, visitors, and members of the wider general public
- 4.6 The Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999 section 3, sets out the duty for every employer to make a suitable and sufficient risk assessment of the risks to health and safety of all of their employees whilst at work and other people not in their employment.
- 4.7 The Housing (Scotland) Act 2001 section 27 (and if using Scottish Secure Tenancies) requires the landlord to ensure that the house is, at commencement and throughout the duration of the tenancy, wind and watertight and in all other respects reasonably fit for human habitation. In determining whether a house passes this test, regard is to be had to the existence of any “sanitary defects”, which include lack of ventilation or dampness.
- 4.8 The Housing Scotland Act 1987 (Tolerable Standard) (Extension of Criteria) Order 2019. The tolerable standard has been the principal measure of housing quality in Scotland for more than 40 years. It is a condemnatory standard, and any housing that falls below this standard is deemed to be unacceptable living accommodation. The Scottish Government has identified several factors which would classify a home as falling below the tolerable standard, and these include the presence of rising or penetrating damp, not being insulated to a high enough standard, and not having enough ventilation, natural and artificial light or heating.
- 4.9 The Housing (Scotland) Act 1987 (the “1987 Act”) imposes a duty on every local authority to “secure that all houses in their district which do not meet the tolerable standard are closed, demolished or brought up to the tolerable standard within such period as is reasonable in all the circumstances". This duty is still in force, and the 1987 Act does not restrict this duty to any specific tenure of housing. The Housing (Scotland) Act 2006 introduced a strategic duty for local authorities to ensure compliance and ensures that local authorities adopt a strategic approach in dealing with houses that are below the tolerable standard.

- 4.10 The Repairing Standard – Housing (Scotland) Act 2001 outlines the statutory rights and responsibilities for fitness for human habitation in Scotland, including the Repairing Standard. The Repairing Standard is a basic level of repair that all private rented properties must meet. Landlords are responsible for dealing with damp and mould caused by structural or repair issues, such as: Leaks in the roof, Cracks or holes in walls, Rotting window or door frames, Lack of ventilation, and Water coming into the home from the ground
- 4.11 The Scottish Housing Quality Standard (SHQS) developed by the Scottish Government requires that the homes provided by social landlords: Meet the Tolerable Standard; Are free from serious disrepair; Are energy efficient Have modern facilities and services; and Are healthy, safe and secure.
