

Have you thought about becoming a Committee Member?

Elderpark Housing is ran by voluntary Committee Members and joining the Management Committee is a great way to volunteer in your local community and help to change it for the better whilst acting as an ambassador for the association.

The Management Committee comprises of a maximum of 15 volunteers at any given time and is elected annually at the Annual General Meeting (AGM).

There are many benefits to you, the association and the wider community.

Benefits to the association and the wider community

- The time you commit to the association will directly contribute to improving the quality of life for tenants and the wider community
- You can help ensure good quality housing and services are provided
- You can help to raise awareness of the associations' vital work within the local community and beyond

Benefits to you

- Build a sense of achievement and gain confidence
- Develop your knowledge and skills to add to your CV and potentially assist with career paths
- Have your views heard and be part of collective decision making processes
- Develop positive relationships with other Committee Members who have a shared commitment to the association and wider community
- Attending training and events
- Get personal satisfaction from giving something back to your community whilst making a positive difference

These are just some of the benefits but there are many more!

To become eligible for election to the Management Committee at the AGM you must first become a Shareholding member. We would encourage everyone with an interest in the association to become a member and the application form can be found on the other side of this leaflet.

If you are interested in finding out more about the process of becoming a Shareholding member or a Committee Member please contact contact Corporate Services on 0141 440 2244 or via email corporate@elderpark.org

About Us

Elderpark Housing was established in 1975 and currently owns over 1300 properties, with the majority being in Central Govan and we have a number of properties within the areas Ibrox, Kinning Park and Cessnock areas. In addition to being a landlord we provide a factoring service to owners. The Association is community based and overseen by a voluntary management committee, which is made up of tenants and residents whose homes are managed by the Association, in addition to other interested people with relevant experience.
